

Be Disciple, Love Your Spouse and Mate without Sin

You want to provide love without sin by providing God's plan in all your lives together. You want to provide love to your lives together. You want to apply God plan to your lives is getting to know each other as friends for a while to secure your loyal friendships. You want to make sure friendship is secure and respectful to be in a relationship with each other. If you cannot be honest with the person with your feelings, then you may not be fit for friendship or relationship. I want to say to people who are gay or LGBT community. If you are having sex with another man or woman on DL as homosexual, it means being gay may not be the life you. You want to become loyal friends with a person first to get to know the person before marriage, sex and children. It can avoid sin in your life and relationship with fornication, sex, and children before marriage. It can avoid sin in your life and relationship without children in bad relationships that end up in single parenting and separated relationships. You want to respect your mate for a while leading to physical affection and permanent relationship. Man and women in relationship must be gentle and peaceful to each other. People are supposed to love each other all year around. You must earn love from people including family.

You need to love yourself as who you are and person that your mother and father raised from child to adult. Do not disrespect your parents after they showed love for you for many years of your childhood, such as providing a roof over your head, food on the table and clothes on your back. Some spouses do not realize they have a good when they live a life with good roof over your head and nice things. Some people rather give up good things during divorce and separation.

Why would married men be ashamed or keep their homosexuality a secret?

Why would a married man be ashamed to have sex with other men and women?

Why would youth have sex with the same gender and hide it from family?

What is the purpose of being gay or LGBT?

Same sex couples cannot have children because it is no way for children to be made in a same sex marriage. Man and women can only make babies that are committed to each other that want to start a family and get married to be in a long term relationship until eternity and until death.

- Love your spouse while you are in a relationship or marriage
- Love your spouse while you are in a relationship or marriage like you love the church
- Love your spouse while you are in a relationship or marriage as one flesh
- Love your spouse while you are in a relationship or marriage as your companion
- Love your spouse while you are in a relationship or marriage by covenant
