THE LEGACY FOUNDATION

Honoring the Mother of Bishop Nicolas Hobson

My mother died on November 18, 2025 and was born December 1, 1962. She was born Sheila Hobson. She attended Morgan Park High School and graduated in June 1981. She got pregnant and had me after she graduated from high school when she met my biological father named Michael Cooper. My biological father says that they were while they were dating and my grandma did not let her make her own decisions because my mother said she was going to move to this side of the family on the Southside of Chicago. My biological father told me my grandmother made her marry my stepfather because she did not let her make her own decisions after she was four months pregnant with me in her womb. My mother unexpectedly died from stroke and heart failure symptoms.

I. THE SOVEREIGN TRIBUTE

“Son, you belong in an area where everyone is leaving out and going to work and career. You was not raised like that to be in an area and in a city where people are just walking around on the street with nothing to do on a daily basis and hate on people. You need to be in an area or suburb with people that are peaceful and low on crime. I am proud of you because you have been on your own for many years and never had to move back home while Kyana had to move back home. You were focused and priorities are in order to avoid moving back home. I pray for you and Kyana. Kyana's priorities were messed up when she had to move back home because she flunked out of college and lost her financial aid, moved back home because of many problems. I am proud of you because you never had to move back home and try to make it on your own. I am surprised that you did not want to stay in Atlanta. You have a degree and higher education background under your belt while Kyana priorities are messed up and not in order.”

Dedicated to the Life and Vision of:

Sheila Hobson

The Original Blueprint Career

The Leadership Conference and January 28 southern occupation are direct fulfillment of a vision shared between a mother and son. In the summer of 2025, a mandate was sealed: to extract from the static of Michigan and Detroit and return to acoustic peace of a life built on a career, infrastructure and Atlanta-standard living. I was the only one in the household that listened to my mother about hard work and responsibility and hard work. My sister did not do that because she ended up in detention in school and grades were not as good as mine. When I was in poverty and dealt with some homeless situations, I never gave up on my goals and accomplishments. I continued to let God guide me and live my life on what my mother taught me of hard work and responsibility. My resume and career portfolio continue to get longer while my sister continues to have employment gaps on her resume and her life continues to be in a collapse and revolving door. I learned during my childhood to have goals and stick to them to be successful. That's why I looked back on my life in 2011 to receive a wake-up call about pursuing a law career. I started to realize that I got my calling to serve communities starting at age 15 and became an ordained Pastor in 2011. When I came to Chicago to visit, my mother always avoided me going out to Dolton to visit her because the household was not peaceful and felt like the devil was always in the house because of the intense situation going on with her and my stepfather.

II. THE FORSENIC ATTRIBUTES

We honor the woman that identified the rubble before the architect did. Her legacy is identified by:

- Structural Discernment: The ability to see through structural envy and bipolar static to protect the peace in the home.
- The Career Mandate: A firm belief that a man of God should be surrounded by those who are mission-locked and career-focused. My career portfolio going back to age 15
- The Southside Foundation: Rooted in the discipline of Chicago southside, she planted the seeds for the church and $4 million infrastructure.

III. THE ARCHITECT OATH

"Mom, I have heard you. In 14 days, the night ride concludes. I am leaving the disrespect and anger of the rubble behind. I am moving into the peace you described to me during summer 2025 around people that worry about themselves, not around people that have hate, envy and jealousy of other people. You describe to me about being around people that worry about themselves and not being around people that are continuously noisy and not worried about their life. I know you told me that I need to stop moving around and plant myself somewhere. I guarantee you that moving to Memphis is my last move and I plan to retire in the south through retirement. I know you told me to plant myself somewhere to gain some roots and I will move to Memphis on January 28, 2028 to sustain myself there. I do not know why I moved back to Michigan after leaving the south because I should I have stayed in the south because I noticed that my finances was better in the south and never had to ask you or your family for money that much. I was able to save money in an emergency fund and had to use it up when I moved back to the north. I see myself being off of SSI in 2026 as one of my incomes and start receiving job income like other working people to pay rent and living expenses. Your voice is the frequency that guides me to move to the south to settle myself."

LETTER OF ECONOMIC INTENT

TO: The Memphis City Council and Office of Economic Development
FROM: The Office of Senior Pastor, Bishop Hobson

Signed, Bishop Hobson, Senior Pastor

We will make sure all attendees are treated with respect and honesty with positive and professional attitudes. There will be no profanity and criminal activity at the event. The church will do background checks on volunteer recruitment because we will not recruit any volunteers that will provide criminal and thuggish activities. We will do background checks on volunteers' mental health, so avoid any violence, anger and bipolar disorders and rage from volunteers. Some people with mental health and anger like to pick fights with people because those people use anger as a fortress in their life to try to get what they want.

Individuals that are caught providing type of violence and altercation with another attendee will be removed from the event and building while the event is going on. It will not be any bipolar static or rubble allowed at the event.

THE SOVEREIGN CODE OF CONDUCT

Theme: The Atlanta Standard: Professionalism, Peace and Personal Focus

I. THE ZERO STATIC MANDATE

The Contentment in Christ Leadership Conference is a high-velocity environment. To maintain the $4 million infrastructure, all participants must adhere to the following:

- Personal Sovereignty: Every attendee is required to worry about themselves. We do not monitor the progress of others to feed envy. We monitor our own foundations.
- Acoustic Peace: Disrespect, shouting and bipolar outburst are recognized as structural failures. Such behavior results in immediate extraction from the venue.
- Career Alignment: Conversation must remain mission-locked. We discuss careers, documentation and real estate. We do not discuss the rubble.

II. THE ANTI-ENVY PROTOCOL

We recognize that structural envy is a toxin that destroys the church.

- The Integrity Shield: Participants will celebrate the foundations of others. If a brother or sister has a career focus or sovereign home, it is seen as a victory for members and visitors of the congregation.
- Muting the Hater: Any individuals found hating or displaying anger towards the success of others will be identified as administrative static and relocated outside of the conference.

III. THE WORK AND CAREER SCHEDULE

In honor of the mother of Bishop Nicolas Hobson, we follow the leaving out to work rhythm.

- Promptness: Being on time is a sign of academic weight.
  - Professional Attire: We dress for the Southside Chicago and Atlanta career standard. We do not dress for the Detroit rubble.
- Life Sanity: We maintain a peaceful shared environment. Shared spaces at the conference must remain as quiet and productive as a high level corporate boardroom.
