The church will start a covenant kin program for people that need support and safety net in their life for people that do not have no one. The small group will have covenant mentors and will be managed by the Family and Discipleship Ministry. The small group of covenant members will help people that do not have family that support them and guide them to make life decisions. The covenant mentor will meet once a month with you or individuals to discuss your spiritual growth, budget, and savings goals. It will be Oakland County with church operations. The covenant mentor will serve as the first call when a person is going through a crisis and will help you or an individual through the situation even if it is related to family and friends problems. The covenant mentor is perfect for people that loved ones recently and in the past that are still dealing hurt from their passing. The covenant mentor will guide you to practice Avodah in the Workplace or on your job. The covenant mentor will help you or an individual with setting boundaries with family members.

Bishop Hobson is looking immediately for permanent housing in Oakland County in Southfield, Pontiac or in Flint to closer to church operations while the church is on track building a larger sanctuary in Pontiac. He says and realized that living in the Westside of Detroit does not work for him and it is a two hour trip for him from the Westside of Detroit. New leadership is coming together fine and more of the new leadership team has to be posted on the church website.
