Follow Our Path and Worry about Own Path to be Like Jesus

Proverbs 4:24-27

When we worry about our own path is the key to receive Jesus and eliminate any path in your life. We must understand God died for our sins and must repent for our sins in your life to let God forgive us for our sins. We need to get the devil out of our minds because the devil wants us to worry about and hate on others. The devil wants us to envy other people and to give a message to those people that live in shared room housing in this nation is to worry about your life and what you have going on. Do not worry about what other tenants in those shared room situations think of you. Do not worry about these young people and youth out here gossiping and talking negatively about you. God will judge children and youth that do not respect their elders in the world today. That is 100% fact. I was able to be successful in what I do today because I rely on God and taking advice from staff in Star of Hope Mission in Houston about letting God guide me in my life and deal while letting God guide me through whatever conflict situations. Envy and sinners are hating on you because you are God children and have goals for yourself with a vision to get all your answers and prayers from heaven. Today is good Friday and it is time we need to honor Jesus on his sacrifices for dying for our sins during the resurrection. Say to the person next to you: honor resurrection and Jesus' sacrifice for us.

When you put away your conceit in your life through your life and mouth, Jesus will come in your heart and make you righteous and prayers will be answered. God's word will make you obedient and strengthen your contentment towards God's kingdom. When you take away a deceitful mouth, Jesus will bless you more in your life as long as you have faith in God's kingdom forever. When I was a facilitator in the TLC program at Star of Hope Mission, I shared the same feedback that I tell you as members and visitors to be cautious of how you use your freewill in your everyday life to cause you to go down the path of unrighteousness and sin to cause you to forget about what Jesus did for us during the resurrection. God's word and faith will turn you from evil forever with your relationship and strong faith in God and the Holy Spirit.

We need to stop being devious in our life. People in shared room living situations are devious and try all they can to bring people down. That's why I oppose living in shared room situations today because there are too many people all about Proverbs 4:24 that are devious. People in shared rooms are instigators except for certain very few people that are more righteous Christians and disciples in shared room situations. If you are homeless at homeless shelters, I encourage more people to be like me to get your own permanent housing to prevent you from being around devious people.
