

Signs of Deception in Our Society

Stop Being Envious to Successful People and Family Members

People need to stop being envious of other people because they need to shift their focus to the good in their life. When you catch yourself being a hater and envious to other people, you want to remain distant from negative and wicked people on earth. Christians and disciples are not haters of successful and sophisticated people. You need to get away and stay away from people that are not grateful too. Christians and disciples are always grateful to others on earth. You want to avoid people that are not caring, intelligent, and not make you bitter. Only ways to stop being envious are studying and working hard. When you study hard, you can have a good career for them. Envious people have low self esteem.

When you show enviousness and hate, it is a sin. People that envious of other people are haters and dream busters. Envy is a deadly sin.
