End Hate and Racism in America, Let Provide Peace and Forgiveness

We need to honor Jesus faithfully at the throne in heaven by being respected and peaceful to others daily. Christians and disciples make a difference for Jesus. We need to have a strong work ethic for Jesus. God will forgive you if you have a hard time forgiving others. Love for others is stronger than hate. It is hard to love my biological father and talk to him because he ran from his responsibility after I was born. He failed to show up to the hospital and be in the operating room while my mother was giving birth. He made lame excuse not showing up to the hospital and he is not on my birth certificate because my mother says she did not know what to put his name on my birth certificate. My father failed to pay child support for me as a child and still owe my mother $60,000 or more for back child support

- Learn to agree and disagree with each other
- Learn how to have open and friendly dialogue with each other
- Learn how to look up to people as mentors and respect your elders
- Learn how to respect each other successes in education and career
- Let God heal and repair your soul
- Let God glorify you in Jesus name at the throne in heaven

Prayer and discipleship

1. When have you found it hard to love someone?
2. Is there someone you find it hard to forgive now
3. What steps might you take?
4. What are some weaknesses you try to keep hidden from the world?
5. How has God revealed his power through your weaknesses?
