Dealing with Homelessness and Poverty

People do not need to be depressed and stressed out with homelessness and poverty because Jesus was homeless on earth that depended on charity from mostly women. Rules and regulations can be strict, but homeless men and women need to be thankful with food to eat and someplace to go everyday until they are able to get their own place. Permanent housing cost money because it includes rent, household expenses and utilities. Some homeless are stuck because they sin and act evil and enemies, and act like haters of others that are successful and sophisticated people. Young people under 30 years of age do unrespectful things to people in public including disrespecting their elders and successful people purposely. According to charitable statistics, local donors consider helping their own country Financially before worrying about helping and donating to other countries to help the homeless and poor. Homeless men and women need to find homeless shelters to stay if they are homeless on the streets because research studies states Working class people should not give all homeless people money. It depends homeless people will not use the money for food to help themselves and use it for smoking, drunkenness and marijuana purposes. Homeless men and women at homeless shelters need appreciate what Millennials and Americans do when they donate to nonprofits, churches and businesses that help the needy and homeless people. PayPal.me/ljccbc is the link Board of trustees receive tithes and offerings to the church every week.

- 18% Americans support youth and family causes
- Men age 18-34 make more donations to support causes and nonprofits
- 60% Millennials donate to nonprofits and causes

People need to do the following while homeless and living in poverty

- Act your wage and do not spend money you do not have
- Act your wage while you have limited and little money daily and weekly
- Pray to God to help you with your debts and pay tithe to your church
- Youth and children need to stay in school to study hard, prepare yourself for college
- Give to organizations, churches and poor because bible says you must give in order to receive
- Mental health people need better self-control to control their wicked, corrupt and evil mind
- Do not rely on government and waitlist to get permanent housing
- Make and determine your budget for your housing and expenses. Stick to it monthly

People should wait on permanent housing and waitlist because the list is very long. If you could find a loyal friend that you knew for long time, you can make arrangements to move in together and split your finances down the middle. Friends that known each other for long time and build partnerships to live together as straight or LGBT individuals. I have members that called and met with me in the past about assisting them with managing their personal finances based on their income and having very little money. Children and youth need to stay motivated in school today because the economy is not like it was when our grandparents were young in 1920-1980. Jobs require special skills and experience. People 21-29 hate on successful and sophisticated people because they are envy about them people taking necessary challenges to succeed with college degree and higher education background. Save your money while you have very little money by putting some money away to save weekly, money and daily. People need to stop hating on sophisticated people and elders while unemployment among racial groups in this nation is high. People need to be appreciative to sophisticated and successful people around them so they can get good jobs and economic opportunities in the private sector. I am social conservative on economy because I support lower and less taxes in economy to prevent inflation in economy on consumer goods and services. I support balance budgets and balance budget amendments from government as a social conservative on economy because I do not support inflation in our economy that cause lack of services for affordable housing, section 8, mental health, education, unemployment, poor government policies.
