

Be Disciple, Do not Live Your Life in Abomination-Part I

People on earth live their lives in abomination because some youth and children live their lives in hate and disgust. People on earth under age thirty live their lives in hate because some people under age thirty do not have a career and lack education. Information listed below are true facts about people under 30 years of age. People under 30 years of age need to grow up and stop judging people thinking they know about everything about people. People under 30 years of age are wrong for their hate and judging successful and sophisticated people. As Bishop, I have ten years of chief executive experience in nonprofit experience working in social services in Chicago and Detroit. I have six years of volunteer experience in social service nonprofit organizations helping the homeless. I donated over $10,000 total of my own personal money to help the homeless on the streets of Chicago and Detroit. First Lady Jennifer has four years of experience in social service nonprofit sector managing her a welfare program helping low-income children and Americans living in poverty. We do not live our lives in abomination in hate because we live our lives in the path of righteousness.

It is 4.2 million youth and young Americans are homeless that do not have a home because they live in homeless shelters, move to house-to-house every night, sleep on the streets. People are dealing with abomination in their marriages and families because married couples are supposed to be equal and loyal to each other. This country need to be united in peace and trust in God as rock of our salvation. People that live in shared room type housing are considered to be homeless as well. Shared room housing is not place a person can all their own because people are sharing house or apartment paying rent for a room. I advocated against shared housing and fight for more affordable housing for all Americans. Homeless men and women deserve affordable housing, not live in shared housing renting a room and sharing with other people that are may hate or judge people that do not know the person. Families need to stick together because families should let other families and friends struggle. People hate on people that ask others for help are living their lives in abomination. People do not help homeless people daily live their lives in abomination. 46% of Americans under age 30 have a college degree, such as a Bachelor or Associates degree. People in the age group always hate on people like Bishop Nicolas Hobson for his success and sophistication. People in the age 30 disrespect their elders and judge people like they hate on their success and sophisticated people. People hate on their elders long resumes and experience because they are envious of successful people.

People under 30 years of age live their lives in abomination

People under 30 years old have on others because they lack good goals and accomplishments. They act like haters and never take challenges to stay in school and go to college to pursue a degree.

They rather listen to too much rap/hip-hop crap. They worry about listening to too much hip-hop/rap crap. 44% of Americans in the US population are educated because people do not stay in school, dropout of school. When people drop out of school, it leads people to live path of unrighteousness. I am part of 44% that is highly educated that is a successful senior pastor and chief executive experience. After you read my biography on the church website, it explains my many years of experience as an undergraduate, chief executive and volunteer experience. The United Kingdom and Canada rank high with the most educated people in the world with higher education.

- People need to do the following to build strong families and relationships:
- End strained relationships
- Family addictions
- End parent neglect because parents need to treat their children, nieces, nephews, grandchildren and godchildren. Some families act two-faced and treat others in the families better, not so good and neglect others in the families and not right to all families. It is like loving some people in families better and doing more for others in the families. That is not equality in families and not right in the family. If that happens in families, it needs to change.
