Trust people on Your Spiritual Journey

Christians and disciples trust people with realistic life expectations. Christians and disciples do not provide unspoken and unrealistic expectations because you do not live your life with uncertainty and no contentment. You want good contentment with clear expectations and trustworthy to people. You need to be careful not to set very high expectation in your life expectations because you want to set realistic goals. You want to be in relationships that you can trust to prevent yourselves from becoming lonely and bitter. Christians and disciples are more authentic when they trust people around them. Christians and disciples believe in more trusting views of the world. People need to be more patient with honest people on earth, not accusing them be liars. Stop humiliating people on earth in public and private settings.

Ways to be Honest with Everyone on Earth

1. Say what you mean and whole truth
2. Give benefit of the doubt
3. Express your feelings during good and bad times
4. You need to take a risk to be honest and trustworthy
5. Be willing to give and receive

You need to set a routine for yourself daily to be truthful and honest with people during your feelings of good and bad times. You need to give to people and give back to your parents to see what you get in return. You need to be friends with trustworthy and honest people. Trust in people that are honest like you trust in the Lord. It is a blessing to trust the Lord. Christians and disciples are focused on God like people must focus on people they can trust on earth. God can only protect people on earth that trust and have faith in him because it is only way he can be our healer, deliverer, protector and provider. God can only help and help eliminate people trials and tribulations that trust and have faith in him. Our trust in God will lead our lives to path of righteousness.

Do not let finances and possessions stress you out on earth because God will help and come through you as long as you have strong faith.
