

Kingdom Come: Living God Reality on Earth

Dealing with Suffering

Heavenly Father,

Guide us to the path of righteousness to avoid sin in our life

Guide our hearts and minds daily

Strengthen our hearts for your kingdom and living under your grace

Thank you for your wisdom and possessions that you have given us from your kingdom

Thank you for being our protector and provider in our life

Guide us for being our healer and healing us while we are sick and dealing with mourning

In Jesus name, Amen

When we are dealing with any type of suffering in our life, we must let God help us with our trials and tribulations. It is important for us to depend on God when we are suffering, not going to the world for a solution to end our suffering. When we are suffering or dealing with suffering, we must depend and call on God first. This applies to people that are dealing with mental health illnesses and hate. When we are suffering and dealing with suffering in our, we must stir up hate and killing in our communities. People with hate in their heart need to call on God first. The person that shot Charlie Kirk yesterday at an event in Utah had so much hate in his heart for murder and domestic terrorism and did want to call on first to receive help from the kingdom. Now, that person now has to face going to hell with them dying on earth and being tormented in hell. When we are struggling, we do need to call on God's kingdom for help to avoid conflicts, hate and idolatry. As Christians and disciples, we must have a vision for God's kingdom to avoid any pain in our life. We need to avoid pain in our life and put ourselves through pain. I want to take a moment to express my respect during this time. I deeply appreciate Charlie Kirk's commitment to open and robust debate. It is a quality that I believe is critical in this country, where respectful disagreement seems increasingly rare.

When I am dealing with pain and suffering, I do not rely on the world for help. I call and pray to God first to help during my suffering, trials and tribulations. I called on God during good, bad and tough times to strengthen my faith in God and Christ Jesus always come through for me because of my patience to the kingdom.

"So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand."-Isaiah 41:10

In the times of our suffering with trials and tribulations, we must not fear the Lord. It is the time we need to honor the Lord and live honorably under his grace. It is time that we must give this idolatry, bondage, sin, abomination and temptation to seek God in our life and stop with the hate, violence and sin. It is time we need to stop our weak contentment and start having strong contentment and stop being unsure of ourselves. It is time to stop being unsure of ourselves and seek a church home to seek God in our life and trust God as the rock of our salvation. When you live your life with obedience to God and his kingdom daily. God is with you. When you continue to put God first and pay your tithes, God is with you in every step of the way. When you live in obedience to God with thanksgiving, God is with you in every step of the way. When you are a cheerful giver to the Lord, God is with you and remains in the center of your life. Obeying God's commandments puts God at the center of your life and God is with you. I join people that are strongly condemning any form of political violence. There is no place for it in a civil society. Everyone in this country needs to read Romans 12:19, Psalm 37:8-9, Matthew 26:52, Matthew 5:9. Romans 13:1-2. I am telling pGod's timing. We need to promote more peacemakers in this nation to condemn any crimes and violence.

"I can do all this through him who gives me strength."-Philippians 4:13

Whatever we do, we must do everything in our life on the path of righteousness while being obedient to God and living under his grace. Whatever we do, we must do everything through Christ by making decisions in our life by heavenly wisdom. We must stay away from making decisions and depending on earthly wisdom, such as idolatry, bondage, sin, abomination and temptation. Also, we must do everything through Christ before we make decisions and prevent ourselves from leaning on our own understanding.

"Even though I walk through the darkest valley, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me."-Psalm 23:4

God is our provider, protector, healer and deliverer. It is time for people to find a church home and trust God as their source, not trusting and loving the world as their source. In 2011, I started to trust God as my source and pray to God for his help and guidance. I do not depend on idolatry and sin in the world to guide me in tough and hard times in the past and present.

"And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose."-Romans 8:28

This is an important verse that we need to read and understand during our Christian walk with God. It teaches us as Christians and disciples to love God and have a relationship to God, so we can avoid loving the world and doing sin in the world. People that love and have a relationship with God do not live in sin and provide any evil and violence in this nation wherever we live. People that love and live obedient to God do not provide evil and violence either. People that love and live obedient to God let God guide them with our struggles. When I continue to read this scripture, I think about this is my season because I got the breakthrough and blessings to move in my own place in Oakland County this next weekend to guide me on my Christian and spiritual journey. It is like what God has been doing in my life is to guide me and not lean on my own understanding. My spiritual advice to people that are struggling living with family and overcrowded households is to seek and have faith in God to help you. God can provide you the same blessings and breakthroughs like he does in my life. If you continue to be evil, Envious, jealous, hate; God will not come through for you in your life. That's why as a man of God, I try to continue to remove myself from people that are hateful, envious, evil and being instigators of others that do not worry about their life and worry about other people's lives. The bible says we need to worry about our own life and destiny. We need to start making more decisions by heavenly wisdom.

That is why I have done so much volunteering at homeless shelters in the past because I like to use my spiritual gifts in shepherding, exhortation, teaching, wisdom and prophecy to help provide hope for homeless men and women. Some homeless people I actually motivated to get their life together to get their lives back on their feet to live spiritually and economically. I have ran into people that was formally homeless in Atlanta, Detroit, Flint, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Houston, Chicago.
